BayCare Clinic Orthopaedic Surgery & Sports Medicine Welcomes Harold J. Schock, III, MD

Green Bay, WI, September 10, 2008 -- BayCare Clinic Orthopaedic Surgery & Sports Medicine welcomes Harold J. Schock, III, MD.

Dr. Schock received his medical degree from the University of Michigan Medical School, Ann Arbor, and completed his residency in Orthopaedic Surgery at Loyola University Medical Center, Chicago, IL. His fellowship training in sports medicine was completed at Steadman Hawkins Clinic, Denver, CO. He is a Board Candidate for the American Board of Orthopaedic Surgery.

Accomplished in general orthopaedic and sports medicine care, Schock's special interest is in knee and shoulder disorders, as well as joint-related cartilage injuries and restoration.

As an MD, and as both a collegiate and professional hockey player, Schock has seen and experienced both sides of the physician-patient relationship in orthopaedics and sports medicine. His excellent skill in athletic care and sports medicine procedures has provided Schock the opportunity to treat professional athletes from the MLB, NFL and NHL. BayCare Clinic is pleased to have someone with this depth of experience join our team.

Schock joins surgeons Shawn Hennigan, Jon Henry, Robert Limoni and Michael Schnaubelt, of
